

YOUR FAVORITE CRAFT SODAS, MADE AND SERVED THE PROPER WAY

We believe soda should remain true to its roots and be made with a few ingredients- water, pure cane sugar, and good flavors with no additives. That's why we handcraft delicious flavors packaged in glass bottles, using machinery as tried and true as the process itself. These classic sodas have a true "old-fashioned" feel combined with a P.A. Dutch taste that many appreciate and love. Operating since 1921, the business has continued making soda as it should be made.

Our sodas undergo a slow carbonation process before bottling. Unlike many large soda manufacturers that flash carbonate, Reading Draft sodas contain a unique pinpoint carbonation that is absorbed slowly and persists longer, leading way to smaller bubbles that give a smoother mouthfeel and more pleasant taste. R.D. is one of the few sodas on the market that employs this carbonation technique, revealing velvety flavors in lieu of excessive carbonation.
